NOTICE TO READERS

On and after February 15, 1938, a harbor buoy, painted black and white in chequers, will be placed on the rim of the principal head of the extensive broadwater works now in progress. Vessels approaching or entering Columbia Harbour by the Southern entrance should not pass south of this buoy.

No. 1.—In virtue of the power delegated under clause XIII (4), (5) and (14) of Government notification No. 423, dated 15th July 1919, and under clause IV of Government notification No. 124, dated 17th February 1920, the Commissioner of S&D, Alkida and Separate Revenue within the following rules in accordance of those contained in Government notification No. 78, dated 12th February 1920, Part I, as amended by Government notification No. 109, dated 11th April 1920:—

1. In these rules "Commissioner" means "Commissioner of Salt, Alkida and Separate Revenue" and "Board" means "Board of Revenue, Separate Revenue."

2. Any person desirous of obtaining a license for a brewery shall apply to the Alkida Deputy Commissioner through the Inspector of the Distillery Circle within the limits of which his brewery is situated. The application shall be accompanied by a treasury receipt for Rs. 15 and a full description (hereinafter called an entry) of his premises and grounds, in which the purpose of and the distinguishing marks on each room, place and vessel shall be clearly specified. The entry will be checked either by the Distillery Inspector or some other officer authorized to inspect breweries, who will certify to the fact if he finds it correct, and submit it with the Treasury application, the Treasury receipt and his remarks to the Alkida Deputy Commissioner, who, if satisfied with the entry and that the applicant is a fit person to conduct a Brewery, will issue a license accordingly.

Notes.—Persons desirous of constructing new buildings or repairing already existing buildings to be used as breweries are advised, before commencing the work, to submit plans of the buildings and descriptions of the plot to the Alkida Deputy Commissioner for approval. Any alterations and additions suggested by the latter officer should be duly attended to, and persons wishing to comply with such suggestions will run the risk of being refused a brewery license.

3. Licenses shall be in such form and for such period as the Commissioner from time to time may prescribe and may be renewed. Such applications for renewal shall be made to the Distillery Inspector at least one month before the expiration of the license and shall be accompanied by a treasury receipt for Rs. 15. A copy of the entry shall also be submitted unless there has been no change in either the buildings or the plot since the issue of the previous license, in which case it will suffice if the verifying officer certifies that fact upon the application. The Distillery Inspector will submit the application with its enclosures to the Alkida Deputy Commissioner who, if he sees no reason to the contrary, will renew the license.

4. An officer (hereinafter called the verifying officer) will be appointed by the Commissioner to take account of all the operations in the brewery, and he shall be empowered to enter, by order, any other officer authorized to inspect breweries, to enter the building and visit and examine any room, place or vessel mentioned in the entry at any time either by day or night.

5. All barrels, kegs, coppers, cauldrons, fermenting and cooling or other vessels shall be so placed and fixed, and arranged to be placed, as to admit of the contents being accurately gauged and measured. Before being taken into use all such vessels shall be gauged jointly by the Distillery Inspector and the verifying officer under the rules in force for gauging such vessels, and when shall be measured showing the total capacity of each vessel in imperial gallons (in the case of machines in imperial bushels) and in the case of machines, fermenting and cooling vessels, the capacity for each batch of an hour in days. In the case of fermenting, cooling and other vessels, the capacity shall only need be measured. These tables before being taken into use shall be certified by the Inspector or his assistant agent to be correct.

6. The room, or an accommodation thereof, of each room or vessel shall be conspicuously painted thereon, and where more than one room or vessel is used for the same purpose they shall be distinguished by progressive numbers. Any room or vessel entered for a specific purpose shall be used for that purpose only.

7. No repairs shall be executed in either buildings or plot and no alterations shall be made in the position or capacity of any gauged vessel without the sanction in writing of the verifying officer or of his assistant officer. Before any vessel is altered or its position taken into use it shall be gauged and new tables shall be constructed if necessary. In the absence of the Distillery Inspector and if a vessel is altered, such repairs shall be effected by the verifying officer and such other officer as the Commissioner may direct, these results being checked by the Distillery Inspector on the next visit to the brewery. In addition to other buildings or to plot shall be made without the previous consent of the Commissioner, and, on completion, the existing entry may be withdrawn and a new entry made.

8. Where beer is stored in casks which are used exclusively for storing beer and not for use from the brewery, such casks shall be numbered consecutively and a register to be kept by the brewer in a form prescribed by the Commissioner, and also the number of the brew in which the beer was manufactured. Any such register for repair or reconditioning shall be returned before being taken into use. The space and, if the capacity has been affected, a new entry shall be made in the such register. The number of the brew shall also be painted on both heads of casks in which beer is stored from the brewery.

9. The verifying officer will be provided by the department with proper gauging rule and a standard measurement and thermometer. If the brewer questions the correctness of the measurement or the results obtained by the officer he must put in a written protest immediately. This will be forwarded with his remarks to the officer to the Alkida Deputy Commissioner who, after due enquiry, will report the matter for the reference of the Alkida Deputy Commissioner.

10. Each licensed brewer shall keep, in some part of the brewery which has been approved by the Distillery Inspector, a brewing book in such form as the Commissioner may prescribe. The book which is the property of Government, will be supplied to him at the beginning of each quarter and shall be taken up at the end of each quarter by the surveying officer, and it shall be removable by day or night by all officers authorized to inspect the brewery. In this book the brewer, at some convenient period, assigned by him, when notice has been given by the Alderney Deputy Commissioner shall merely enter the particulars of each brewing. The book shall not be in any way defaced or mutilated and the loss of it will entail immediate suspension of the brewer's license and if, on enquiry, the explanation of the brewer is unsatisfactory, his license may be suspended.

10. The brewer shall deliver the proper column, at least 24 hours before beginning to work with his guais or in double sugar, the day and hour of brewing and in the remarks column the consecutive number of the brew and the word "Saline" or "English" as the case may be, with the date and hour of making the entry and at least six hours before the time entered in making or finishing he shall enter separately in the proper column the quantity of malt or unmalted corn, sugar or glucose and of hops or hop substitutes to be used and the hour when all the worts will be drawn off the grains in the mash-tun. He shall also enter in the appropriate columns the dip and gravity of the worts collected, the number and designation of the cone or cones in which they have been collected and the date and hour of the entry. Each entry shall be made within one hour after the collection has been completed, or if the worts be not collected before 5 p.m., the entry shall be made before 6 a.m. morning. If fermentation has started before the requisite entry has been made, the brewer shall send the true original gravity of the wort. Each entry shall be initialed by the brewer or his agent.

11. Beer shall be brewed from good materials and its quality shall be such as to satisfy the Commissioners. Worts shall not be brewed at a higher gravity than 117°f. Nothing shall be added to beer after it has been racked and returned to a lower cask, except honey or other natural product approved by the Commissioners. Beer is here stated must not be diluted and any beer found to have been so diluted or in any way adulterated will be liable to forfeiture. The failure of the beer will not release the brewer from the penalty of fine or suspension of license provided under rule 25.

12. All beer surveying inspectors shall make a complete survey of the whole of the brewery plant on every day on which they visit a brewery, showing, in the proper columns in a survey book, the form of which will be prescribed by the Commissioners, the condition of each vessel and the dip and gravity of each wort containing fermenting wort which such vessel shall be found, when, except in case of suspension of fermented addition of mashing water or of addition or removal of wort, the surface need not be taken. A copy of each survey will be made in a similar book and will be left at the brewery for the information of the brewer.

13. Each brewer shall keep a stock account in each form as may be prescribed by the Commissioners in which he shall daily enter the exact quantity of beer brewed by him, the quantity, if any, imported and brought into stock after verification by the surveying officer or other officer authorized to inspect breweries, and the total quantity issued. Each entry made to any place within the Alderney Dependencies shall be accompanied by a permit the receipt of which shall be retained in the permit book. Permits shall be successively numbered and before any permit book is taken into use it shall be assented by the surveying officer who will certify as to its correctness. No brewer is allowed to issue permits for shipments of beer to be exported to places outside the Dependencies. Applications for such permits should be made to the Collector at the district wharf, if he sees no reason to the contrary, will grant a permit and send a letter of advice to the officer in charge of the brewery. The permit of the brewer must be retained for at least a year. The permit book will be checked at least once in each week by the surveying officer; the quantities of beer brewed entered in it being compared with the entries in his survey book and the quantities of returned beer being compared with the statement of verification by the officer and the issues with the contents of permits issued and with the letters of advice from the Collector, if any.

14. No entry in any of the books kept by a brewer under these rules shall be erased or overwritten. Should it be necessary to correct any entry a line should be drawn through the incorrect entry in such a manner as to leave it distinctly visible and the corrected entry should be inserted above it. Every correction shall be initialed by the person making it at the time and by the surveying officer on his next inspection of the book. No entry should be corrected after it has been so specially noticed, but in the case of errors which appear to be accidental, the explanation of the brewer should be obtained and submitted to the District Inspector with the surveying officer's records. A missing or erased handwriting entry may be corrected if the brewer does not wish to set upon it by writing the word "corrected" across the column devoted to materials in the brewing book. But, if these columns have already been filled up, the figure must not be erased or covered out and the word must be written in other blank space. In all cases a written explanation should be obtained from the brewer and submitted to the District Inspector with the surveying officer's records.

15. Samples of wort in any stage of fermentation or of mixed beer may be taken for analysis without payment by the surveying officer or any other officer authorized to inspect breweries. Samples of the wort during fermentation shall be taken by the surveying officer, at least once in each quarter, and samples with such instructions as the Commissioners may deem fit and shall be forwarded to the brewer, the officer taking them will submit a special report to the District Inspector at the Alderney Deputy Commissioner's residence the interest for sampling and the nature of the analysis required. Samples of brewing materials will be taken only if called for by the Commissioners. When, however, there is large discrepancy between the quantity of malt or unmalted corn entered in the brewing book against a report giving a copy of the entry in the brewing book, the dip of the guais in the report and the gravity represented by the dip and the percentage of increase or decrease.

16. The stock of beer in every brewery will be taken at least twice in each year by the District Inspector or with other officers as the Commissioners may direct. Such shall only be taken at other times by the surveying officer or other officer sent in such form the District Inspector if there is any receipt of fraudulent practices. On all accounts the books will be immediately reported to the Commissioner, in the latter case with the reasons for taking such. The explanation of the books for any account or deficiency exceeding one per cent. found in stock should be obtained before the report is submitted. The Commissioner will pass orders whether any, and if so, how much duty should be claimed in respect to such excess or deficiency.

20. The Duty-free Inspector after careful examination of all the books will submit to the Board at the end of each quarter an account showing the quantity of beer actually brewed and pay duty, allowed for wastage, and the duty thereon calculated at the rate of two annas per imperial gallon or at such other rate as the Board may determine. The Government in Council may prescribe from time to time under section 17 of the Madras Act No. 4 of 1862. On this account the Commissioner will pass orders as to the amount of duty to be paid.

21. The brewer shall pay the duty demanded into a Government treasury within 4 weeks of the receipt of an order as to the amount due. The Duty-free Inspector will notify both the Collector of the district and the Commissioner of the date of delivery of the order. The Treasury officer will pass a receipt to the brewer for all such payments and send a letter of advice to the Duty-free Inspector and the Collector will notify the date of payment to the Commissioner. Interest at the rate of 4 per centum per annum will be charged on all accounts not paid within the stipulated time.

22. If a brewer objects to the amount of duty demanded from him he may move the Commissioner to revise the charge. But no revision will be substitutive order and until all sums demanded under rule 18 have been paid. In the event of the original charge being found correct, any excess levied from him will be refunded to the brewer, and if the amount claimed from him is found to be less than what actually due he will be called upon to pay the difference at once into a Government treasury.

23. In case of any breach of these rules or of the conditions of the license either by the brewer or by any person in his employment, it shall be competent for the Commissioner to impose a fine not exceeding Rs. 10 for each such breach as is required to be made for license, or both.

24. The imposition of a fine or the suspension or cancellation of the license under the last preceding rule shall not be held to prevent the prosecution of any person for any offence which he may commit against the provisions of the Madras Act No. 4 of 1862, or other law for the time being in force. If on such prosecution before a Magistrate, a brewer be convicted it shall be lawful for the Commissioner to revoke his license.

25. There shall be levied by the Commissioner additional rates for the period of license which may hereafter be prescribed under the existing Act or under any law which may hereafter be enacted and by all special orders issued by the Commissioner with regard to individual breweries and shall cause all persons employed by them in their breweries to obey all such rules.

Arkaris and grog shops and beer shops will be leased for all districts. Particulars regarding them will be found in Circular XVI below. A separate notification will be issued regarding Beer for foreign liquor houses.

III. A deposit must be made by each bidder previous to bidding and will be received by the selling officers on the day of sale. A deposit of Rs. 50 will not be required from any person wishing to bid for any one arkaris shop or any large number of shops. This will be reduced to Rs. 25 in the case of bidders for not more than two or three shops of an aggregate monthly value of Rs. 50 or less, and to Rs. 10 in the case of bidders for single small shops. In the Karant district, the officers conducting the sale may, where he finds it necessary, require a deposit of Rs. 50 only from bidders for arkaris shops. In the North Canara district, the selling officers may, in their discretion, reduce the deposit to Rs. 5 for shops whose average monthly rental does not exceed Rs. 5.

IV. The shops will be put up to auction in the order in which they are notified, unless the selling officers see reason to change that order. Exact prices will be fixed at the discretion of the Collector. The reserve price fixed by Government on the shops will not be published, but the average of the previous five years' rentals will be notified by the Collector, wherever possible, for the information of bidders.

V. No person will be allowed to bid for another unless he holds a power-of-attorney from him.

VI. The officer conducting the sale may, at his discretion, refuse to accept the bid of any person on the ground that he has been convicted by a Criminal Court or has previously been guilty of such a breach of the conditions of a license or of a contract under the ^{above} ~~above~~ Act, or to tender him inadmissible as a bidder of a license or on the ground that he is involved or is present at the sale for the purpose of obtaining information for or preventing arrangements for the breaking of Government monopolies or for any other unlawful purpose. He may also refuse any bid which he may consider to be purely speculative, after recording his reasons for doing so.

VII. The ship will be knocked down to the highest bidder, but the sale will be subject to formal confirmation of the Collector, who shall be at liberty to accept or reject any bid at his discretion. Such formal confirmation will be tantamount to an acceptance of the bid, unless refused by the Board of Revenue for special reasons, and will be necessary when the sale is held by the Collector himself or by any officer appointed by him.

VIII. In case of dispute the selling officer's decision shall be final. If for any reason the highest bid is rejected the next highest shall be taken or the ship re-sold at his discretion.

IX. At the close of each day's sale, the deposits made by the successful bidder will be returned to them. As the auction proceeds, each person whose bid is accepted shall at once, if so required by the selling officer, or otherwise at the close of the day's sale, make a further deposit of half a month's rent (in addition to the deposit made under clause II) for each ship unless the bid deposit equals or exceeds two months' rent. Should he fail to do so, the deposit made by him under clause III will be forfeited and the ship will be put up again immediately by the selling officer on the above conditions or otherwise disposed of by the Collector and the defaulter will be debarred from bidding again for the sale or for any other ship.

X. Persons to whom ships have been knocked down and who have made deposits as provided in clauses III and IX shall also deposit a cash further sum as well as the former deposits will make up two months' rent to be paid within ten days from the date of communication of the Collector's acceptance of the bid and shall without unnecessary delay execute the necessary engagements and take out license on the conditions hereafter set forth. In the case of the purchaser's death after giving the agreement, it will be binding on his heirs and assigns. Should the said deposit exceed the sum required to be deposited under the clause, the excess will be refunded unless the purchaser is required to deposit more than was under clause XI ^{above}.

XI. If on any day subsequent to sale the purchaser shall be found to be of doubtful solvency, he may be required either to deposit twice the sum provided in clause X ^{above}, or to get a security or surety to ensure a security bond for the due payment of all moneys that may become due by him under the terms of the contract. The bond shall be stamped (article 34, schedule I, Act II of 1907) and registered at the expense of the purchaser if the auctioneer records reasons for doing so.

XII. On the failure of any person to make deposit under clause X or to comply with the requirements under clause XI ^{above} or to ensure engagement and take out license as aforesaid, the deposit already made may be forfeited and the ship resold before the expiry of the Diversion Office on the date notified by the Collector or otherwise disposed of by the latter officer.

XIII. He who defaults under clause XII will be at the risk of the defaulting bidder, who will forfeit all sums, and, in the event of a loss, will be required to make good the deficiency between the total amount payable for the whole period under the terms of the original sale and the total amount payable by the successful bidder at the resale. In the latter case the forfeited deposits will be deducted from the loss arising from the resale, and the remainder, if any, will be recoverable from the defaulter in the same manner as if it were an error of Lord Revenue. Should, however, the forfeited deposits be greater than the loss by resale, the whole of such deposits will be applied to Government. The defaulting bidder will be similarly liable if the privilege is disposed of otherwise than by resale and such disposal results in loss to Government as compared with original sale.

XIV. The purchaser of the privilege is liable to the penalties prescribed for breaches of the conditions set forth below, through a formal license may not have been issued to him.

NEW MEMBERS.

The Hon'ble Mr. Halse took his seat as an Additional Member of Council.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

The Hon'ble Mr. Dhillon asked:—

"In answer to a question put by Mr. G. M. Chinnai in this Council on the 15th March last regarding an inquiry into the causes of the cholera and general rise in price of food provisions during the past few years, Government was pleased to give an assurance that the subject was under consideration, and that, in case an inquiry was found necessary, it would gladly accept his suggestion."

"Will Government be pleased now to state if it has come to any final decision, and, if so, does it propose to make a full investigation into this most important subject?"

The Hon'ble Sir Guy Francis Wyndham replied:—

"The Government fully recognise the high importance of the above problem, and it is engaging their most careful attention. It is, however, a question of much complexity, involving a number of other causes of much moment, and the Government are not yet in a position to announce their final decision regarding the suggested inquiry. They trust that it will shortly be possible to give the Hon'ble Member further information on the subject."

The Hon'ble Mr. Dhillon asked:—

"In view of the fact that several questions about the introduction or the introduction of the new Government of India Bill have been asked in this Council, will Government be pleased to state approximately the time when they will be introduced, and, further, for the satisfaction of the people, to see all possible expedients in their introduction?"

The Hon'ble Sir Guy Francis Wyndham replied:—

"The Government of India undoubtedly think a Bill legalising the reforms in question will be introduced in the next Session of Parliament. There can be no enlargement of the Legislative Council until the Bill has passed into law. There is obviously a considerable amount of work yet to be done before the reforms can take practical effect, but the Government of India are anxious to see as much done as they have already taken action to secure all possible expedients in the matter."

The Hon'ble Mr. Dhillon asked:—

"Will Government be pleased to consider the advisability of appointing trained persons as Judicial Commissioners and Additional Judicial Commissioners wherever such offices exist or may be created in future?"

The Hon'ble Sir Guy Francis Wyndham replied:—

"There is no objection to the appointment of trained persons as Judicial Commissioners and Additional Judicial Commissioners. There are appointments being already being made, and the Government are prepared to make others as occasion may arise."

The Hon'ble Mr. DUNSTON asked:—

"Is the Government aware that the imposition upon India of an additional burden of Rs. 4,00,000 in consequence of the decision of the Home Committee, notwithstanding a vigorous protest from the Government, has caused widespread dissatisfaction in this country?"

The Hon'ble Mr. GUY FARRERSON WILSON replied:—

"The Government of India have observed the contents of the Indian Press on the subject."

The Hon'ble Mr. DUNSTON asked:—

"Will Government be pleased to state the grounds upon which this burden has been imposed, and to lay open the whole of papers relating thereto?"

The Hon'ble Mr. GUY FARRERSON WILSON replied:—

"The agitation which down by the Wadly Commission was taken to action in a subsequent date. The grounds upon which the extra charge was accepted by the Secretary of State were the increase in the salaries and introduction of the £1-16-3 application rate in—first, the training period required; secondly, the annual cost per man of records under training; and thirdly, the provisions of actual diets and other to local establishment. As the Secretary of State has decided that it would not be in the public interest to present the papers to the House of Commons, they were not presented to the Council."

The Hon'ble Mr. DUNSTON asked:—

"Has the Secretary of State for India finally sanctioned the additional expenditure in connection with this Government?"

The Hon'ble Mr. GUY FARRERSON WILSON replied:—

"The Secretary of State has agreed to the extra charge being paid from the 1st May 1918. He is in possession of the views of the Government of India."

The Hon'ble Mr. DUNSTON asked:—

"Was the report of the Home Committee published either in India or in England before the meeting? If not, why not? Has it since been published?"

The Hon'ble Mr. GUY FARRERSON WILSON replied:—

"The report of the Home Committee has not been published, the Secretary of State having decided that its publication would not be in the public interest."

The Hon'ble Mr. DUNSTON asked:—

"Is the conclusion the extra contribution from India was the recommendation of the Wadly Commission taken into account and considered?"

The Hon'ble Mr. GUY FARRERSON WILSON replied:—

"The Wadly Commission Report was before the Home Committee."

The Hon'ble Mr. DUNSTON asked:—

"Has a similar contribution been exacted from any of the British Colonies? If not, why this difference in treatment of different parts of the same Empire?"

The Hon'ble Mr. GUY FARRERSON WILSON replied:—

"The Crown Colonies of Mauritius, Seyles, Singapore and Hong Kong contribute fixed percentages of their revenues towards the cost of their garrisons. All the more important Colonies, except those in South Africa, provide their own defence forces. Since the passing of the Statute 51 George III, c. 45, in 1794, India has been required to meet all charges for raising, transporting and maintaining for European troops which she may lose."

The Hon'ble Mr. DUNSTON asked:—

"Has the situation of Government been drawn to the members' notice by Mr. Sardaicharan Mitter, late Judge of the Calcutta High Court, on the occasion of his retirement from the Bench, about the enormous pile of business of his office in the Calcutta High Court, the great inefficiency in the number of Judges, and the consequent failure of justice?"

"It is, doubtless, a reasonable proposal to increase the number of Judges, with due regard to the claims of both branches of the legal profession and the Indian Civil Service."

"Will Government be pleased to mention of similar unsatisfactory conditions prevail in any of the other High Courts?"

The Hon'ble Mr. GUY FARRERSON WILSON replied:—

"The Government of India have seen in the newspapers a report of the judge made by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Mitter in the foreword address presented to him by the Viceroy of the Madras High Court on the occasion of his retirement from the Bench of that Court."

"The Government of India have at present under their consideration the question of the strength of the Calcutta High Court."

"The Government of India have also under consideration a proposal recently made by the Government of Madras for the temporary strengthening of the Bench of the Madras High Court, with particular reference to the addition of services of work in that Court. They have no reason to believe that any further addition to the strength of the Bench in the Bombay and Allahabad High Courts are necessary at present. In the year 1907 an additional Judge was appointed temporarily to the former Court, to deal with the extra work involved by the construction of a number of cases under the Local Acquisition Act. Early in 1908 the High Palace Judge-ship in the Allahabad High Court, which had hitherto been exercised as a temporary arrangement, was made permanent; and a sixth Puisne Judge was also appointed to the Court, on the understanding that the appointment should be absorbed on the expiration of the first vacancy in the Court at the end of six years."

INDIAN STEAM-SHIP LAW AMENDMENT BILL.

The Hon'ble Mr. DUNSTON asked that the Bill further to amend the Indian Steam-ship Act, 1904, and the Indian Steamships Act, 1904, be taken into consideration. He said:—"The provisions of the Bill have not with general approval met, as the Chairman of Objects and Reasons fully explains the purpose which was, had in view in framing the Bill, I need now only explain the two small amendments which I am proposing. The first amendment is intended to take it perfectly clear that clause 2 of the Bill will apply to sub-sections which place definitely an interest on money. Secondly, in the second sub-section of the new section 23 which, when clause 4 of the Bill becomes law, will be substituted for the existing section in the Indian Coinage Act, it is proposed to substitute the word "materially" for the word "substantially" the amendment being necessary to bring subsection (2) of section 23 into line with subsection (1) of the same section.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. HARTY moved that after the word "result" in the new section 23 A of the Indian Coinage Act, 1905, proposed to be inserted by clause 2 of the Bill, the words "which substantially pay on interest money and are" be inserted.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. HARTY moved that for the word "substantially" in subsection (2) of the new section 23 of the Indian Coinage Act, 1905, proposed to be substituted by clause 4 of the Bill, the word "materially" be substituted.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. HARTY moved that the Bill, as amended, be passed.

The motion was put and agreed to.

INDIAN PAPER CURRENCY (AMENDMENT) BILL.

The Hon'ble Sir Guy FLEMMING WILSON moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Indian Paper Currency Act, 1905. He said:—The Hon'ble Members are in possession of the Bill itself, which cannot be said to be of a controversial character. I may explain that in 1905, when the present five-rupee currency note was introduced, it was made legal tender throughout British India with the exception of Burma. The reasons which I now submit to Your Excellency's Council is intended to prove that exception. The reason why the great province of Burma was left outside the scope of the so-called "interest" note in 1905 was purely a question of ways and means. The experiment of universal notes was a novel one; and we anticipated that they would, in the beginning at any rate, be used to a considerable extent as a means of private remittance, thus throwing upon Government a large potential liability to cash them at the different offices of issue throughout India. It was feared that this liability would be particularly heavy in Burma, owing to the great volume of the movement of funds between that province and Bengal. It was determined therefore to defer the extension of the universal five-rupee note to Burma until experience had been gained of the working of the change in India.

"SIX years have passed since then, and we now feel that Burma should no longer be left out of the scheme. We have more information than we had in 1905 regarding the use of the five-rupee note for remittance purposes; and we are prepared, by certain financial dispositions with which I need not trouble the Council, to minimize whatever danger there is in that direction. We believe that the extension of the note to Burma will be welcomed by the business community of that province, and that it will tend to increase the popularity and usefulness of our note circulation.

"If the measure which I now submit becomes law, a new pattern of universal five-rupee note will be issued, bearing its denomination on the face of it in Burmese as well as in the other Indian vernaculars of India; the issue of the present Burma note being discontinued."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Sir Guy FLEMMING WILSON introduced the Bill.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Sir Guy FLEMMING WILSON moved that the Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, be published in the Gazette of India in English and in the local official languages in English and in such other languages as the Local Governments think fit.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Council adjourned to Friday, the 26th February 1909.
